ROYAL SOCIETY OF NEW SOUTH WALES

RSNSW SCHOLARSHIPS NOMINATION FORM

Three scholarships of $500 plus and a complimentary year of Associate Membership of the Society are awarded each year in order to acknowledge outstanding achievements by young researchers in any field of science in New South Wales. Applicants must be enrolled in their first higher degree as research students in their first or second year, in a university or at CSIRO in either NSW or the ACT (on 1 January of the year of nomination) and have completed an undergraduate degree within NSW or the ACT.

The winners will be expected to deliver a short presentation of their work at the general meeting of the Society in February of the year following that in which the award was made, and to submit a paper to the Journal and Proceedings of the Royal Society of New South Wales.

Self-nomination is allowed.

All Royal Society of New South Wales awards are assessed relative to opportunity.

- Please complete the details on this form and return together with a curriculum vitae, and attached letters of nomination and supervisor statement to awards-nominations@royalsoc.org.au by 30th September 2021. The letter of nomination should state clearly the significance of the student's project.
- The student's curriculum vitae containing a list of publications, details of the student's undergraduate study, and any professional experience.
- A statement of support from the student's supervisor, confirming details of the student's candidature.
- We require two external reports on the nominee so in cases of self-nomination an additional statement of support is required. The nominator cannot be the student's supervisor.
